

Nixon in Defense of Asian Policy

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Nixon has strongly defended the Cambodia operation while naming a new U.S. negotiator to the long-stalled Paris talks on ending the Vietnam war.

David K.E. Bruce—"one of America's most distinguished diplomats," Nixon said in an hour television-radio interview Wednesday night—will take over the post vacated by Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. last December.

Without disclosing any new peace formula, Nixon said Bruce "will be in a position with his new instructions to tell the opposition...that we are willing to see whether we can narrow the gap between their position and ours."

Bruce, 72, a Maryland native and lifelong Democrat, has served under five presidents including ambassadorships to France, Germany and Great Britain. He will go to Paris by the first of August.

Indochina was the prime topic and the Mideast secondary as Nixon underwent a quizzing from three network panelists in his first public appearance since the June 30 pull-out of U.S. ground forces from Cambodia.

On the Mideast, Nixon portrayed the Arab-Israeli conflict as potentially more dangerous than Southeast Asia because it has the possibility of a big war with the Soviets and Americans on opposite sides. He said the United States would not allow the military balance to shift against Israel.

But it was on his controversial decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia April 30 that Nixon waged his most vigorous defense—and quickly started drawing a rebuttal from congressional critics.

104 War Casualties for Week

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 104 Americans were killed in action in Indochina last week, eight more died in a North Vietnamese attack early today, four American aircraft were lost over Laos this week, and nine of the air crewmen are missing.

The South Vietnamese command reported meanwhile that a large force of government regulars and militiamen chopped up a North Vietnamese battalion on the coast 25 miles southeast of the demilitarized zone and killed 58 of the enemy. It was the biggest battle in that sector in more than a year.

The weekly casualty summary said 802 Americans were wounded in the June 21-27 period, while South Vietnamese casualties were 307 killed, 1,607 wounded and six missing. The two allied commands reported 1,484 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed last week.

The American casualties included 34 killed in the last full week of U.S. ground operations in Cambodia. The totals were about 25 per cent above the previous week's, when 80 Americans were killed and 643 wounded.

The summary brought total U.S. combat casualties reported in the war to 42,858 killed and 282,503 wounded. Reported enemy casualties now total 653,675 killed.

The U.S. Command reported that eight more Americans were killed early Thursday and four were wounded in a North Vietnamese attack on a night bivouac of 101st Airborne Division troops in jungled mountains 25 miles west of Hue.

This Is Birdsong, the Dying Village That's Fighting Back

By JIM BRANUM
Blytheville Courier News
BIRDSONG, Ark. (AP) — When a people reach down and take hold of their tattered boot straps and begin to lift themselves and each other from the murky world of poverty, sooner or later the squeaky sounds of the aged and dying leather will be heard by the outside world.

In one rural pocket, blacks are trying to save their hamlet from the Pale Priest of the Mute People and his gentle touch of dying.

The village is Birdsong, a step, a stone throw, from the county boarder, the southern-most part of Mississippi County. Somewhere time tiptoed past the village, leaving it as it appeared in the last century.

There are no streets, as such. The false-front store buildings, sit facing the county road that carves its way around and through the aged buildings. The only other thing that resembles a street is the short gravel road that ran to the Birdsong school and a few steps beyond the home of W. B. Harrison's mother.

W. B. Harrison bought the Birdsong School Building in 1968 after Birdsong's children had been transferred to Wilson. Harrison purchased the old school with the thought in mind of turning it into a nursing home. This idea itself, though not realized at this moment, would give employment to about 20 people and this, in a community of 261, could be a telling economic factor.

However, the building is not being wasted. Harrison donates it rent free to the Birdsong Neighborhood Service Center, the origin of ideas, dreams and much of the frustration in the

Tax Cut, Strike Curb for Britain

By FRED COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath's two-week-old Conservative government unveiled the broad outlines of its legislative program today, promising tax cuts and strike curbs at home and a vigorous foreign policy abroad.

Queen Elizabeth II outlined the Tory legislative package in her traditional speech from the throne at the glittering ceremonial opening of Britain's 47th Parliament. Most of it came out of the Conservative platform in the June 16 general election which returned them to office after six years in opposition.

Beginning with foreign affairs, the queen gave the government's usual pledge to strengthen the North Atlantic alliance, welcomed the talks that began Tuesday on Britain's latest bid to join the European Common Market and said Heath's government "will cooperate with our Commonwealth friends in measures aimed at maintaining peace and stability in Commonwealth countries in Southeast Asia."

This referred to Heath's promise to reverse the Labor government's plans to withdraw British troops from east of Suez by the end of next year.

The queen also announced that the Tory government will make another attempt to reach a settlement with the white-minority government in the break-away African colony of Rhodesia. But she said a settlement would have to be in accord with the "five principles" providing for progress toward majority rule in Rhodesia.

Turning to domestic affairs, the queen said the government's "first concern will be to strengthen the economy and curb inflation."

Heath in the campaign promised to cut taxes and still expand social services by improving efficiency and cutting out wasteful government spending. The queen's speech reflected this view.

Details of the tax cuts and other measures are expected in the new government's first budget, probably in the fall.

The queen also announced the government plans a bill to curb strikes, a stiffening of regulations covering nonwhite immigrants from the Commonwealth and pensions for the over-80s not covered by present plans.

Says WR Won't Get Negro Help

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Rev. R. J. Hampton of North Little Rock, a Negro candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, said Wednesday night that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller never again can count on heavy black support at the polls "because of wrongs committed, promises unkept and lies found out ..."

Hampton, 34, made the remarks in a political telecast on Little Rock television station KATV.

Hampton said Rockefeller was re-elected in 1968 because he received 92 per cent of the black vote. He said the heavy Negro support came about because "black people still believed — then, not now — that the man meant what he said about building a better Arkansas."

Hampton labeled Rockefeller's civil rights talk a "farce" and said his own candidacy gives the state "the opportunity to show the rest of America that Arkansians consider factors other than race when choosing their highest elected official."

Hampton said he was aware that his race made him "an object of curiosity and a subject of controversy" but that he believed it was time for a Negro to run for governor.

Hampton, a minister of the African Methodist Episcopal denomination, resigned as president of Shorter College in North Little Rock on June 16—the day he filed for the GOP race.

He said, however, that much was accomplished during his tenure at the college including implementation of a program of providing education to inmates of the state prisons.

The petitions submitted so far carry 171,961 signatures, well over the 58,812 needed to put the measure on the ballot.

Abbreviated Address May Be Next on List of PO New Things

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office, which brought you zip codes, is thinking about abbreviated addresses to speed the flow of mails.

Researchers probing "human problem areas in moving the mail" have found operators of letter-sorting machines—LSMs—help determine how fast mail flows.

The faster they read addresses and punch in 3-digit numeric codes that send letters into the proper receptacles, the faster the mail is delivered.

At the present rate of 60 letters per minute, the operator has one second to read an address, recall the proper code and punch it in before the next letter comes up.

"This constitutes a considerable memory task for the operator," National Bureau of Standards scientists said in a report for the Post Office.

To help lighten such mental burdens, the government is experimenting with shorter work cycles, variable sorting speeds and ways to cut address-reading time.

If things turn out well, the researchers said, "methods for encoding or abbreviating addresses can then be based on a good estimate of human ability to use the method quickly and accurately."

Other ideas under investigation include machines to sort the mail with voice commands instead of a keyboard, and using television viewing of the mail to allow the LSM operator to be removed from the noisy, dusty operating floor.

Record Roll at Service Academies

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Student opposition to the Vietnam war apparently has not dimmed the drawing power of the nation's three service academies; they report the highest enrollment in history this year.

Total enrollment is expected to reach 12,848 and incoming freshmen classes will include a record number of Negroes and other minority group members.

The increased enrollment dates back to 1961 and reflects the desire of the late President John F. Kennedy to significantly bolster the strength of both West Point and the Air Force Academy.

Three years later, President Lyndon B. Johnson signed legislation increasing the cadet strength of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point and the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., from 2,529 to about 4,500—the authorized enrollment level of the brigade of midshipmen at Annapolis.

The Naval Academy's enrollment was higher because it had fewer Reserve Officer Training Corps detachments on the nation's campuses to train officers.

HELEN HELP US!

MAMA DON'T ALLOW NO FEMALE CRITTERS AROUND HERE

Dear Helen:
I'm an 18-year-old guy. Every time I find a girl I like, my mother figures she is a no-good hussy who is going to trap me. She breaks us up, one way or another.

My last girl friend is respectable and fun-loving like her family. They really have good times together. Mom says they have loose morals and I shouldn't associate with them. That's because she once saw them drinking beer at a picnic.

She bothered my girl so much, calling to ask if I was there, and making snide remarks, that her mother got on the phone and really told my mother off. After that we pretended to break-up at the request of both parents—but we still see each other at friend's houses. (We don't date.)

Mom got wind of it and now she's telling my girl a lot of lies about me: That I've got mental quirks and am dangerous to be around, that "bad blood" runs in the family and she's taking big chances when she goes with me. Helen, we aren't having an affair and we don't intend to. My girl doesn't believe in it. We like each other but wouldn't consider marriage. So why is my mother in such a swivel she'd want to scare girls away? She says she's determined to see me through college, but I wonder if it will end, even then? —GERARD

Dear Gerard:
Probably not. Overly protective parents seldom outgrow it. Let's hope your college is at least 200 miles from home—and that you haven't inherited any "mental quirks" from your mother! —H.

Dear Helen:
A few months ago I met this groovy fella. We dated a few times, and then I got to thinking he might take me for granted, so I wasn't always available when he called. After I turned down three dates, he stopped calling. How can I show him I still care? —HOPING AND PRAYING

Dear H and P:
Perhaps an invitation to a party might undo what you overdid.

And next time play it honest: If you like a guy, don't pull the old "You'll have to wait your turn" business on him. Groovy ones no longer wait! —H.

Dear Helen:

TONIGHT "GIANT SCREAM SHOW"

"THE ITALIAN JOB"

Television and Radio

By JERRY BUCK
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD AP — Mr. French has had things too much his own way on "Family Affair" and this fall he is going to find a nettlesome red-haired cleaning woman in his beard.

Nancy Walker, who will play a rather messy, busybody housekeeper, describes her function as "a thorn in Mr. French's side."

Mr. French, of course, is the very proper English major domo played by Sebastian Cabot in the long-running comedy series on CBS.

Miss Walker, who was once described as the funniest actress on Broadway when she starred in such shows as "Best Foot Forward," "On the Town" and "Do-Re-Mi," was persuaded to move to California to take the role.

"I love to work and there's no work in New York," she said. "None that one would want to do. I did a few commercials. Oh, I did the Sullivan show."

Miss Walker, who has enough of a barb on the tip of her tongue so that you know Mr. French is in for a time, also had a few words of farewell for New York that would wilt the carnation in the buttonhole of the city's greeter.

She said she and her husband, David Craig, are buying a house here and will sell their New York apartment.

She said, "I got a look at the next script and I nearly fainted. I figured I'd have a few lines and I'd learn them later, but in it I never shut my mouth. They said they were going to involve me, and they meant it."

"It's the most relaxed show in the world and I go in all tensed up. If I blow a line I'm ready to—but Charlie Barton, the director, says, ah, ah, take it easy. I'm a natural born worrier, just like Bert Lahr. Even when I know the lines I think I don't know them and can't say them."

This is Miss Walker's second round in Hollywood. In the 1940s she was in the MGM stable of stars. "Unfortunately, they just weren't oriented toward comedienne," she said. "No one was writing for us and we were relegated to the friend of the friend parts."

"I begged my agent to get me out of the contract. One day he called me and said he had bad news. He said I'd been let out of my contract. I said bad news! I left town that night."

Miss Walker said she now finds Hollywood a different, and better place than it was. "The tempo's picked up, people are aware now, they're reading, out of the contract. One day he called me and said he had bad news. He said I'd been let out of my contract. I said bad news! I left town that night."

Tigers Edge N.Y.; McLain Is Starter

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Denny McLain returned to the baseball wars Wednesday night and showed that he hadn't changed much. He still didn't know what he was doing.

The 26-year-old ace right-hander of the Detroit Tigers was tagged for five runs and eight hits, including three homers, in 5 1-3 innings but wasn't involved in the decision as Mickey Stanley singled home an unearned run in the 11th inning for a 6-5 victory over the New York Yankees.

"I was scared as hell, to be truthful," McLain admitted after getting several thunderous ovations from a packed house of 53,863, largest Tiger Stadium crowd in nine years, larger than any of the Detroit crowds during the 1968 World Series.

"I feel pretty good, but I'm not satisfied because I didn't go nine innings. I'm not thinking like a pitcher yet. I made a couple of mistakes."

Jerry Kenney, Thurman Ounson and Bobby Murcer hit the mistakes out of the park.

"I really thought I was going to cry for a minute or swallow my tongue," McLain said of the crowd's response to his first appearance since he was suspended from baseball for involvement with gamblers. Commissioner Bowie Kuhn decided that McLain was duped into investing in a Flint, Mich., book-making operation.

Elsewhere in the American League, Baltimore blanked Cleveland 3-0, Minnesota edged Kansas City 2-1 in 10 innings, California shaded Milwaukee 4-3, Oakland zipped the Chicago White Sox 3-0 and Boston beat Washington 6-4.

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs defeated St. Louis 5-0, Pittsburgh nipped the New York Mets 4-3, Cincinnati trounced Atlanta 9-2, Los Angeles downed Houston 6-3, San Francisco outslugged San Diego 12-7 and Montreal swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia 11-1 and 4-1.

Kenney said the Yankees were "waiting for McLain's curve ball and were taking it, since he was a bit off target. He'd get one curve over, miss with another and come in with the fast ball. But," Kenney added, "he will be pretty sharp before the season is over."

The Yankees dropped four games behind Baltimore in the AL East when Jim Palmer hurled an eight-hitter as the Orioles beat the Indians for the eighth straight time this season.

The Birds scored single runs in the second, third and fourth off rookie Rick Austin, Brooks Robinson launched two of the rallies with fluke doubles and Boog Powell doubled to start the other one.

A bases-loaded sacrifice fly by Rich Reese in the 10th inning gave Minnesota's its winning run against Kansas City. Rick Renick homered for the Twins, other tally.

Jim Fregosi's two-run homer highlighted a three-run rally in the sixth inning that powered the Angels past the Brewers. Bob Burda hit his first AL homer for the losers.

Rollie Fingers, Paul Lindblad and Mudcat Grant combined on a four-hitter as the A's turned back the White Sox on Sal Bando's RBI single in the sixth inning and a two-run homer by Bert Campaneris in the ninth.

Two-run homers by Carl Yastrzemski and George Scott broke open a tie game in the seventh inning and the Red Sox survived a counter rally to edge the Senators 6-4.

The Nats, who had won four straight games with late-inning heroics, got two in the eighth and one in the ninth but Sparky Lyle pitched out of trouble both times.

Yarborough Qualifies at 191 mph

By F. T. MACFEELY
Associated Press Writer
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Cale Yarborough interrupted a fishing trip Wednesday to boost his Firecracker 400 stock car qualifying record to 191.640 miles per hour.

It earned him an immediate $200 and the pole position in Saturday's $95,000 race for the big Grand National stockers.

But Tiny Lund, whose skill and luck have won 13 of this year's 16 races in the Camaro-Cougar-Javelin Grand American division, didn't reach the speedway in time to try for the pole in the Paul Ryvere 250, which starts at midnight Friday as a preliminary event to the Daytona 400 for big cars.

Bobby Allison of Hueytown, Ala., who loves racing more than fishing, stepped into a 1970 Javelin and won the Paul Ryvere pole over a road-track course at 104.154 m.p.h.

Yarborough spent Monday looking for fishing spots in the Gulf of Mexico and checking on progress of a new 30-foot cruiser he is having built at Perry, Fla. But he came to Daytona International Speedway, shook down his 1969 Mercury, and put it in his favorite starting place—first.

Yet even the record, which wiped out his own 190.706 of a year ago, didn't please the husky young blond veteran from Timmonsville, S.C.

"Track conditions were mighty fine and the car was perfect," Yarborough said, "but I was a little off. I pinched it in too low on the first and second turns and got a little wiggly."

Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N.C., put his brand new 1970 Dodge Daytona in the starting front row beside Yarborough. Isaac expressed satisfaction with his 190.142 speed, "since we haven't got the car handling exactly like we want it and are still working on it."

The defending champion, the third fastest qualifier, Lee Roy Yarborough, of Columbia, S.C., was disgusted to learn that his 1969 Mercury's best lap was only 189.585 m.p.h.

"I hoped to be in the 190s," he said. "I didn't figure to beat Cale, but Isaac slipped up on us. Maybe it's because we qualified with our racing engine. It only has 40 miles on it and isn't broken in."

Such other favorites as Pete Hamilton of Dedham, Mass.; David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C.; Charles Glotzbach of Georgetown, Ind.; Benny Parsons of Detroit; Buddy Baker of Charlotte, N.C.; Bobby Allison, and Dick Brooks of Porterville, Calif., grabbed the rest of the front 10 qualifying spots.

Donnie Allison of Hueytown, Ala.; Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C.; and Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., had to wait until today's second round of qualifying to make the field. All three failed to meet Brooks' 195.927.

Travelers Lose 4-3 to Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Shreveport's Braves snapped a 10-game losing streak with the help of tight pitching by Stan Bell as they stopped Arkansas 4-3 in the second game of their Texas League series Wednesday night.

Bell pitched a four-hitter through seven innings before retiring, allowing only a single run in the second on singles by Wayne Dees and Eddie Crosby wrapped around a wild pitch.

Crosby's hit was his sixth single in the series.

The Braves went ahead in a four-run sixth inning highlighted by Earl Williams' three-run

Helms Hits 1st Homer In New Park

By HAL BOCK

Years and years from now, when Tommy Helms gathers his grand-children around him, he can tell them about the first homer his team, the Cincinnati Reds, hit in their new Riverfront Stadium way back in 1970.

He'll tell about the power-packed Reds' line-up that moved into the new ballpark that year. Tony Perez had 7 homers when they made the move, Johnny Bench had 25 and Lee May 19. Homers were a Cincinnati trademark that year.

"But the first one, grandpa, who hit the first one?" the kids will ask Helms. And a smile will crease his face when he reports, "Why it was me. Honest, I did it."

Helms will have to dig out his clippings to prove it because, frankly, homers are hardly his thing. But he did indeed slug the Reds' very first one in their new ballpark Wednesday night and it helped Cincinnati nip Atlanta 9-2.

The homer was Helms' first since the fourth game of the 1969 season and only the 15th of his big league career. And he was duly proud that it was the first one in the new stadium.

In other National League action Wednesday, Chicago ended its 12-game losing streak with a 5-0 victory over St. Louis, Montreal swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia 11-1 and 4-1, Pittsburgh topped New York 4-3, San Francisco battered San Diego 12-7 and Los Angeles dumped Houston 6-3.

In the American League, Detroit marked Denny McLain's reinstatement from a three-month suspension by beating New York 6-5 in 11 innings, Minnesota went 10 innings to nip Kansas City 2-1, Oakland edged Milwaukee 4-3, California blanked Chicago 3-0, Baltimore shut out Cleveland 3-0 and Boston nipped Washington 6-5.

Helms savored his glory after the game. "It's about time I hit a homer," he said. Asked how far he thought his shot traveled, Helms replied, "It's 330 feet down the left field line and I must have hit it 332."

Rookie Wayne Simpson fired a six-hitter and won his ninth straight, running his record to 12-1.

The Cubs finally won a game, ending their longest losing streak since 1944 on Ferguson Jenkins' four-hitter over the Cardinals. A four-run seventh inning with singles by Billy Williams, Jim Hickman and Ron Santo as the key hits, broke up a scoreless duel between Jenkins and St. Louis rookie Jerry Reuss.

"We finally had some hits at the right time," noted Manager Leo Durocher.

Rich Nuro pitched a four-hitter and Bob Bailey and Adolfo Phillips each poled two-run homers as Montreal blitzed Philadelphia in the first game of their doubleheader. Coco Laboy drove in three runs with a double and triple.

Bailey homered again in the nightcap and Da McGinn, with last-out help from Howie Reed, completed the sweep. The Expos have won four straight and seven of the last nine while the Phillies have dropped six of the last seven.

Richie Nebner clouted a three-run homer with two-out in the eighth inning to rally Pittsburgh past New York. Jim McAndrew was working on a three-hitter and had retired 11 straight Pirates when Gene Clines stroked a two-out pinch single in the eighth. Matty Alou followed with another hit and then Heberner connected.

Ron Hunt and Alan Gallagher each tagged homers and Dick Dietz drove in four runs with a double and single as the Giants held on to beat San Diego. Ollie Brown drove in six of the Padre runs with consecutive three-run homers in the seventh and eighth innings.

Bill Garbarukwitz cracked a three-run homer in the fifth inning and then touched off a three-run tie-breaking rally in the eighth with a double as the Dodgers whipped Houston.

The Astros had tied the score in the top of the eighth on Cesar Cedeño's pinch double, a fielder's choice and an infield hit. But Willie Davis singled home Grabarkewitz with the deciding run in the bottom half of the inning.

homer and a sacrifice fly. It was Williams' 13th homer of the season.

Blancas Is Favorite in Canadian

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
LONDON, Ont. (AP) — Homero Blancas was the favorite and the legendary Sam Snead was the sentimental choice today in the first round of the $120,000 Canadian Open Golf Tournament.

"I just wish I had your nerves on the green," the 58-year-old Snead told Blancas over lunch before they set out.

"For just two seasons," the old West Virginia hillbilly said.

"Just two seasons with your nerves. Man, with the money they're playing for now, I'd cut a path for 'em to follow."

"That would be it, wouldn't it, Sam?" Blancas replied, "Let's see if we can get 'em to let you hit it and me putt. We'd be unbeatable. Unbeatable."

Then the happy go lucky Blancas paused for a moment and asked:

"What about chipping? You want me to chip? Can you still chip?"

Snead grinned:

"Are you kidding?"

Snead, winner of more than 80 official tour events in a career that goes back to the 1930s, is only a part-time tourist now but still retains his dual trademark, the brightly-banded straw hat and the smooth, effortless swing, "the sweetest swing in the land."

He has had putting troubles in recent years and hasn't won in several seasons. His biggest challenge was in the Canadian Open last year when he took Tommy Aaron to an 18-hole playoff before losing.

Snead makes no bones about his putting woes.

"I was playing with (Ben) Hogan a few years ago in Miami. He was about six feet away on the left and I was five feet on the right. He gets over it and goes pfft," Snead said, making a jerky, sideways motion with his hands. "So I get up, go pfft," he said making the same motion.

"Man, I told him, 'I'm not going to watch you putt. I'm going to look at the clouds or the birds or something else.'"

With most of the leading names in the game skipping this tournament, including all the top 10 money winners, Blancas ranked as the man to beat. He won the Colonial National Invitational, has one second, was ninth last week and has been in the top 10 eight times this year.

Other leading contenders included defending champion Tommy Aaron, George Archer, Dave Stockton, Bob Coalby and Larry Hinson.

U.S. Track Stars Take Int'l Meet

Track and field stars from the United States were victorious Wednesday night in international meets in Italy and Finland but the only American entries in a third meet in Sweden placed third and fifth in the discus.

At Helsinki, America's Paul Gibson won the 110-meter hurdles with a 14.3 clocking and placed second in the 200-meter sprint at 21.7.

American Jay Silvester won the most prestigious event at Milan, the discus throw named in memory of Italy's late Adolfo Consolini, an Olympic performer. Consolini's 12-year-old son handed two trophies to Silvester for his winning 209-7 effort.

Also at Milan, Charlie Green of the United States won the 100 meters in 10.3 and teammate Lee Evans captured the 400-meter event in a 45.5 clocking.

Former world record holder John Pennel of the United States was first in the Milan pole vault with a 17-3/4 effort. He tried to top the current world mark of 17-10 1/2 held by Wolfgang Nordwig of East Germany but failed in three attempts at 18-1/4.

Only disappointing performance of the American squad at Milan came from Villanova's Marty Liquori, who finished third in the 1,500-meter race behind Italians Franco Arese, 3:39.1, and Gianni del Buono, 3:39.3, with a 3:39.9. The U.S.'s John Dobroth was third in the high jump with an 8 1/4 leap.

At Turku, Finland, in a corollary meet to the Helsinki event, American pole vaulter Bob Seagren, also a former world record holder, failed three times at his first height—16-1. The event was won by Finland's Attila Alarottu, who recently returned home after studying in the United States, at 17-5.

Abbatiello Reaches 1,500 Plateau

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Carmine Abbatiello became the 25th driver in harness racing history to reach the 1,500 plateau in career victories when he scored with Stereo Scott at Rosemead Raceway Wednesday night.

Bahamas Added to Golf Tour

NEW YORK (AP) — A new $130,000 tourney, the Bahama Islands Open, had been added to the annual tour of professional golfers, it was announced today.

Joseph C. Dey Jr., commissioner of the PGA Tournament Players Division, said the tourney will be played Dec. 10-13 at the King's Inn and Golf Club, Freeport. A $5,000 pro-am on Dec. 9 will precede the tourney.

The Bahama Islands Open replaces the $25,000 West End Classic, which has been played as a satellite event on Grand Bahama Island since 1967.

Senate Doves Are Blasted by Angry Thailand Spokesman

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

MANILA (AP) — The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization's Council of Ministers opened its 15th annual meeting on a stormy note today as Thailand's foreign minister denounced "Western politicians ... for harassing and persecuting loyal SEATO members."

In an obvious reference to U.S. Senate doves, Foreign Minister Thanant Khoman said his own nation and others had been attacked with "unrestrained rage and fury ... in a sad display of mental pollution and perversion."

He warned that if SEATO is scrapped, the peace and security of Southeast Asia will then have to be safeguarded "by other means and arrangements based on new realities and changing facts of international life."

U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers sought to reassure the SEATO allies that under the Nixon Doctrine the United States intends to remain a Pacific power and will not withdraw into a shell of isolationism.

"We will support the efforts of our Asian friends to maintain their own sovereignty and security," he said. But Rogers again emphasized that the Nixon administration under the policy of Vietnamization, is turning over the primary responsibility for ground combat to the South Vietnamese and is looking to nations directly threatened by Communist forces to provide the manpower for their defense.

Foreign Minister William McMahon said his government's decision to withdraw one battalion of its force in Vietnam reflects the growing ability of the Saigon government to look after itself.

Rogers said the United States will give limited military assistance to Cambodia, but the U.S. aim in Cambodia is to protect the allied programs in Vietnam.

He called the increased cooperation between Cambodia and its neighbors—South Vietnam, Thailand and Laos—a "logical and principled response to a common danger." But he stressed that the United States does not favor any military association between SEATO and Cambodia.

He said that neutrality of Cambodia, like that of Laos, will "contribute to the stability for peace in Southeast Asia."

South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam, attending as an observer, said that only a swift military move by the United States and South Vietnam kept the Communists from taking over Cambodia.

Opening the meeting Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos called for an Asian political forum that would include all countries in the region, regardless of differences in political beliefs and systems.

"An Asian forum suggests immense possibilities in the exploration of opportunities for peace," he said.

Carlos Signs for Modest Sum

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — John Carlos has signed to play professional football with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, but he fell about $977,000 short of his asking price.

Neither Carlos nor Eagles' general manager Pete Retzlaff would name the figure that made one of the world's great sprinters a pro football player. The educated guess, however, put it at $23,000, give or take a few thousand.

Retzlaff said, however, "John's potential is unlimited in the contract. When a man performs the results of his performance should be felt in his bank balance. Therefore there are stipulations in his contract, which according to performance escalate his salary considerably."

The Eagles obviously sold Carlos and his advisor, Pappy Gault, on the idea that they would pay more if the Olympic medal winning sprinter proves he can play pro football. Carlos has never played anything stronger than

Brazil Foils Hijacking of Airliner

By FRANCISCO SILVA
Associated Press Writer

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazilian police foiled a hijack attempt with tear gas, fire foam and bullets Wednesday and took the four hijackers off. The government said one was wounded seriously, and the pilot was reported shot in the legs.

Meanwhile a U.S. airliner, a National Airlines DC8 with 39 persons aboard, was hijacked to Cuba while en route from San Francisco to Miami. It spent almost 10 hours in Havana, then was allowed to complete its flight.

The Brazilian jet, a Cruzeiro do Sul Caravelle with 34 passengers and seven crewmen aboard, was taken over by three men and a woman shortly after it took off from Rio de Janeiro for Buenos Aires.

Brazilian authorities said the pilot convinced the hijackers he would have to return to Rio for fuel before starting the long flight to Cuba. But Canadian diplomatic courier Leigh N. Shankland, one of the passengers, said the hijackers told him they wanted to return to Rio and exchange the passengers for 44 political prisoners.

When the plane landed back in Rio, police flattened its tires with machine-gun fire, surrounded it and warned the hijackers they would rush the plane unless the passengers were freed.

"We will kill the passengers one by one," the hijackers radioed back. But the police stormed the plane behind a cloud of tear gas, a hail of bullets, and billows of firefighting foam. Several passengers, including Shankland, jumped out an emergency exit during the melee.

Authorities said some persons were injured, but it could not be learned how many. Five ambulances were seen leaving the airport.

The National Airlines plane was diverted to Cuba as it neared Miami about noon and spent the rest of the day at the Havana airport, finally reaching Miami at 9:32 Wednesday night.

Air Force Sgt. Frederick Dube of Clearwater, Fla., told newsmen in Miami the Cubans kept him and three other passengers wearing military uniforms in an airport waiting room.

"Everybody else got to go downtown, but they sure didn't want us out loose," Dube said.

Another military passenger, David Boots of Fort Myers, Fla., said a U.S. Army captain on the flight "jumped a guard and resisted to keep from having his picture taken. Six of seven Cuban militia jumped him, subdued him, handcuffed him, and then photographed him."

The captain was handcuffed for seven hours but was not hurt, Boots said.

Being a Woman Is Handicap

—She Says

By JOHN W. BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Male politicians depend on women to win elections but being a woman is as great a political handicap as being black, says a Negro congresswoman.

Rep. Shirley Chisholm, a Democrat from New York City, told a House subcommittee Wednesday that without women's efforts no man could be elected to Congress.

"Without his thousands of women volunteers the American party system would not work," sandlot football.

"He has the size, weight, speed, certainly all the confidence in the world, and has better than average intelligence," said Retzlaff. "We think he'll be able to comprehend what we try to teach him. At this point, until proven otherwise, I'd say we're very happy and optimistic about his chances of succeeding."

Retzlaff said the Eagles would give Carlos a crash course starting July 6. He'll report to end coach Charley Gauer and backfield coach Irv Cross for an indoctrination both on the field and in the classroom.

The club's training camp for rookie opens July 19 at Reading, Pa.

The Eagles plan to try Carlos at split end and flanker.

Opening lead - ♠ J

If you are too lazy or superstitious to count up to 13, you will never win any major bridge competition but you can still enjoy the game.

North had no superstition about 13 but he did not like to bid either no-trump or a four-card major suit headed by the nine. Hence his choice of the one-diamond response.

South's two no-trump rebid was eminently correct and North was delighted to raise to game. Not that North was optimistic. He did have two aces but it looked to him as if it would be up to his partner to produce the other seven tricks.

North made a comment to the effect as he put down the dummy, whereupon South assured him that there was a third trick concealed among North's cards.

South did this after counting to nine tricks provided he could score with North's nine of hearts.

Resisting the temptation to go after more, South won the spade lead with his queen and played his king of hearts. From then on it didn't matter how East and West defended. South was sure to establish that nine of hearts while dummy still held an ace for an entry.

Suppose South hadn't bothered to count to nine? He would have won the spade lead in dummy and a heart to his 10. This would have been fine if East held the queen but West did hold the queen. Now, if West continued to play his king of hearts, South would not be able to do better than to win with the king and play a second heart. East could grab his ace, lead a second diamond, knock out dummy's ace and leave that nine-spotted of hearts high and dry.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG
Good Rest Is Important In Relief of Twitching
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q - What causes twitching in the right upper eyelid and what can be done to relieve it?
A - This common tic is usually due to fatigue. If you get more rest every night the twitching should stop within a few days.

Q - I have a muscular spasm that pulls my head back every few seconds. What causes it? Is there any cure for it?
A - These habit spasms often start early in life as a result of emotional tension. When the spasms have persisted for several months or years, or have their onset in persons who are over 40, there is little that can be done for them. Fortunately, they are not a hazardous.

Q - What causes toxoplasmosis? What are the symptoms? What is the best treatment?
A - This disease is caused by a one-celled animal parasite, the Toxoplasma. It is estimated that about one-third of the population harbors this organism without showing any symptoms. It may be found in birds, mice and domestic animals and can be transmitted to man in poorly cooked beef, lamb or pork, or by handling pets and then not washing your hands before eating.

When symptoms do occur, there may be a fever, general lassitude and a rubbery but painless enlargement of the lymph nodes. Complications include invasion of the retina or the brain with resulting visual disorders or convulsions. Once the diagnosis is made, treatment with pyrimethamine (Daraprim, a prescription drug), combined with triple sulfonamides, leads to improvement within a week. Without treatment recovery occurs but it takes much longer.

Airport Aid Funds at Hand

By VERN HAUGLAND
 AP Aviation Writer
 WASHINGTON (AP) The Federal Aviation Administration promises an unprecedented stream of funds for airport development aid starting today.

FAA Administrator John H. Shaffer said up to $15 billion in federal, state and local money would be made available for improvement of the nation's airports and airways over the next 10 years.
 "We will have a flow of resources into the non-vehicle part of aviation—the airports and airways—that they never before have had," Shaffer told the Aero Club of Washington Tuesday.

Thursday, July 2, 1970
 Shaffer said the new airport and airways development act taking effect today authorizes the Secretary of Transportation to approve $840 million in airport development grants over the next three fiscal years.
 However, actual appropriations often are much less than such authorized ceilings.
 Funding of air navigation facilities will total not less than $250 million a year through 1975, Shaffer said.

Fairness of Draft Lottery Defended

By STAN BLANJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)

"When a guy's life is at stake of course you're going to have some complaints," said draft director Curtis W. Tarr as he watched the lottery that determined the order of armed forces inductions for 1971.

"But we would hope they could not complain about its fairness," Tarr added Wednesday.

Tarr, who succeeded former director Lewis B. Hershey last April 6, had taken complex precautions to make sure the lottery could not be called one-sided. Some critics charged the 1970 draft lottery last December was not random.

The lottery determined the fate of some 2 million men born in 1951 who will form the "prime" manpower pool for next year's draft.

Most men born in 1951 probably will enlist or obtain deferments or exemptions. More than half of the remainder will flunk the physical.

Military manpower needs will be met from the remaining small number—perhaps as little as 10 percent—who are 1-A (available) and physically qualified.

Men sharing July 9 as their birthday will be the first ones called. Their birth date was matched with number 1.

Next to go will be those born on Dec. 24; then July 25, July 29, and Oct. 21.

Men born on Christmas Day, Dec. 25, get a welcome gift of number 361—virtually safe from the draft.

The very least likely to be inducted are those born July 7.

A similar lottery was held last December, assigning numbers to this year's prime draft pool of men who were between 19 and 26.

For that lottery, plastic capsules containing birth dates were drawn from a bowl that had been shaken.

Preparations this time were far more elaborate.

Both dates and numbers were placed in separate sets of capsules and scrambled according to computer-generated random tables. They were further mixed by tumbling rotating plexiglas drums.

A total of 108 young members of Selective Service advisory committees from throughout the nation took turns drawing the capsules. Aides rotated the drums between each drawing.

Kiwanis Club Hear National Report

ROYCE WEISENBERGER and DEAN MURPHY

Kiwanians Royce Weisenberger and Dean Murphy, delegates to the 55th Annual Convention of Kiwanis International held in Detroit, Michigan June 21st through the 24th, made their report to the local club at Tuesday's meeting.

Detroit was the birthplace of Kiwanis International 55 years ago. From one small club it has grown to a membership in excess of 275,000 men in 6000 clubs located in 33 countries.

Weisenberger and Murphy attended a Founders Day Meeting held in conjunction with the International Convention. An Arkansas man, Ralph Wilson of Osceola, was elected Kiwanis International Vice President and T. R. Johnson of Denver was elected president for the administrative year beginning October 1st, 1970.

Patriotism was the theme of this year's convention. Among those appearing on Convention programs were Arthur Godfrey and Sam Levinson, TV personalities, and Fred Haise, Jr., of Apollo 13 fame.

At Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting David Moore accompanied by his wife Lynn, and Harold Trent accompanied by his wife Ruth, were formally inducted into membership of the local club by Kiwanian Larry Patterson.

Four Kiwanians from Prescott, Ed Spencer, Jim McKenzie, Marvin Watson, and James Fairchild, met with the local club for an official interclub meeting. Ronnie Kidd of Hope was the only other guest.

Blast in Switch Kills Man

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An electrical oil switch in a powerhouse on the Capitol grounds apparently exploded Wednesday night, killing one person and injuring four others, including Secretary of State Kelly Bryant.

Police said Bernard J. Engel, 53, of North Little Rock, assistant chief of maintenance at the Capitol, was killed.

Officers said two other state employees — William F. Maxwell, 43, of North Little Rock and Jerry Cole, 32, of Little Rock and William Hale, 44, of North Little Rock, an employee of the Arkansas Power & Light Co., were hospitalized. Another AP&L employee, Howard Herring, 54, of Little Rock, was in the building at the time of the explosion but he was not injured.

Bryant was burned on the left hand while attempting to beat out flames on the clothing of another man. The burn was not serious.

Bryant said the power in the Capitol went off shortly after 5 p.m. and that he rounded up his maintenance personnel and called AP&L. He said the men replaced two fuses and that he was standing near the door of the powerhouse when the men turned the power back on.

"... Something went crack just like a big old limb would crack on a tree, and then a lot of oil just splattered all over me," Bryant said. "Then something exploded and one of those AP&L men went by me, I don't know if he was blown out or what. Then we got Ben (Engel) and Maxwell out, and I was trying to beat out the fire on Maxwell, and that's when I burned my hand."

An AP&L spokesman said Wednesday night that crews would be at work today trying to restore power.

On April 12, electric power to five buildings at the Capitol was knocked out when an overheated breaker switch behind the old Education Department caught fire. Power to the same five buildings had been knocked out less than a week earlier when an underground power cable was cut by workmen.

No Firm Policy on Integration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, faced with 100 Southern school districts that still defy Supreme Court desegregation edicts, is without a course of action only nine weeks before classes re-open this fall.

But Asst. Atty. Gen. Jerris Leonard declared Wednesday that "the period of negotiations is ended" and promised the administration would decide by early next week how to move against the holdout districts.

He indicated the administration will attempt to avoid using "an iron fist" against districts that have escaped federal legal action for 16 years after the high court's dictum to erase dual school facilities for blacks and whites.

Emerging from a meeting with Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, Education Secretary Elliott Richardson and Postmaster General Winton M. Blount, Leonard said the emphasis this fall would be on securing local cooperation as it has been for most of this year.

Anti-Air Bases Hit by Israeli

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli planes attacked SAM2 anti-aircraft missile batteries at the southern end of the Suez Canal today and other targets along the waterway, the Israeli military command announced.

A spokesman said the planes also raided "war targets" along the northern coasts of the Gulf of Suez.

All planes returned safely, he reported, but he gave no indication of what hits they scored.

One of the chief purposes of the daily Israeli raids across the canal has been to knock out the SAM2 launching sites which the Russians have been establishing along the canal for the Egyptians. The Israeli command admitted earlier this week that SAM2s brought down two Israeli planes on Tuesday.

On Israel's eastern frontier, Arab gunners in Jordan fired rockets at two settlements in the Jordan Valley but caused no casualties, the command in Tel Aviv said. A spokesman said the fire was returned.

Alex. M. Washburn
Fourth of July —Something to Believe in

Dominic Savio, 9, son of Joe Savio, late of Boston but now of Little Rock, was watching his father adjust one of our Compu-graphic photo-typesetters Wednesday when I asked him, "What are the 11 kids in the Savio family going to do on the Fourth of July? I got a prompt and enthusiastic answer:

"We're going to shoot firecrackers."

To which his computer-fixing father added this sage post-script:

"The trouble with Dominic is, he thinks up big ideas and then comes to me for financing. Take this firecracker business, for instance: He thought he could make money selling firecrackers in our neighborhood, so he borrowed $50 from me and stocked up. Now he's out on the road when he ought to be back home selling firecrackers—and I got a feeling if business doesn't pick up he's going to try to sell me back his inventory for $100."

But to the adult world the Fourth of July is something to believe in—even though some Americans seem not to have outgrown the irresponsible, carefree days when lighting up firecrackers was the No. 1 business of Independence Day.

Youth, complains one American churchman on today's wire, "is in revolt against all laws."

The national tide of unrest is abetted by ill-conceived speeches from so august a body as the United States Senate. If something is to be remembered on the upcoming Fourth of July it is this caution:

Don't let our American Way of Life slip into the way of Russia—where revolt has no end-goal, but means a life of continuous violence and unhappiness.

The human heart requires something to believe in. Our united front for the American system of freedom has for two centuries made us the envy of the world. Let us rededicate ourselves to national unity this Fourth of July.

2 Accidents in City Traffic

Hope Police Dept. investigated two accidents Wednesday, the first at 8 a.m. at the intersection of North Main and Avenue C where a car driven by Jack W. Fountain was struck by a car driven by B. W. Hooten. There was considerable damage to the Fountain car. No charges were filed by Officer John Shirley.

At 9:23 a.m. in the 100 block of South Main, a car driven by Bryce Thomas, Sr., backed out from the curb, into the side of a car driven by Mrs. Grace Murphy. Minor damage resulted. No charges were filed by Officer Richard Rowe. All parties involved in the accidents live in Hope.

Also reported for Wednesday by the police were one case of improper passing, one driving while intoxicated, one failure to answer a summons, and one case of no driver's license.

Electricity Rationing Is Likely

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The President's science adviser, Dr. Lee A. DuBridge, says a nationwide campaign to turn off unnecessary lights and air conditioning may be necessary to prevent power cutoffs this summer.

"Even more drastic measures may have to be taken, such as voltage reductions, which have already occurred, and curtailing of selected loads or partial blackouts or even shutting down certain industrial plants," DuBridge said Wednesday.

DuBridge, a former president of California Institute of Technology, addressed the American Nuclear Society.

One Lane of I-30 Completed Into Hope From Guernsey; Laying a Mile a Day

—Hope (Ark) Star photos, Pod Rogers

Paving of the north lane (for southbound traffic) on Interstate 30 has been completed from Guernsey to the Highway 29 overpass at Radio Station KXAR—and today the crew for Ben M. Hogan, Little Rock contractor, began the return trip paving the south lane (for northbound traffic) to Guernsey.

Picture above shows the Highway 29 overpass, where the new paving ends—leaving Hope—Prescott as the sole remaining unpaved link in I-30 in Arkansas.

This photograph—all pictures were made this morning—shows workmen laying steel prior to pouring concrete as the contractor begins the return to Guernsey on the southside lane. Hogan is using a slip-form paving method which eliminates the need for side forms.

Here the camera looks west from Highway 4 overpass. To the right appears the newly-paved northside lane, while on the left you see steel in place for paving the southside roadway back to Guernsey.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate met for eight seconds today—the second shortest session on record—then adjourned for the July 4th holiday weekend.

Prison Training Gets U. S. Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday that the state prison system had received a $271,178 federal grant to give job training to 75 inmates of Tucker and Cummins prison farms.

Rockefeller said the grant was made under the Manpower Development and Training Act.

Church Aid on Schools Opposed

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH
AP Education Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The resolution committee of the 108th annual National Education Association convention proposed today a hard-line position against use of federal funds in private or parochial schools.

A committee resolution asks that present federal programs be "modified so that all federal monies for elementary and secondary education, goods and services, either direct or indirect, shall be expended solely for the support of public schools."

This was a return to the NEA position prior to 1965 when Congress passed the Elementary-Secondary Education Act, which provided some federally-financed services and materials for private schools, including textbooks, library facilities, instructional matter and lunches.

The resolution states that legislation "should be consistent with the constitutional provisions respecting an establishment of religion and with the tradition of separation of church and state with no diversion of federal funds, goods or services to nonpublic elementary and secondary schools."

The resolution concludes: "Where federal funds are presently provided to kindergarten to 12th grade nonpublic schools, these funds be discontinued; however, until such funds are discontinued, these funds shall be controlled by public education agencies and be limited to tuition-free schools that meet all standards required of public schools."

President Nixon earlier this year in a message to Congress suggested that ways should be found to lend financial assistance to private schools, which he said were closing at the rate of one a day.

Last April 21 Nixon announced creation of a panel on nonpublic education to "promote diversity within the Constitution."

At that time he said if "most or all private schools were to close or turn public the added burden on public funds by the end of the 1970s would exceed $4 billion per year in operations and an estimated $5 billion more needed for facilities."

The 7,000 delegates to the NEA Representative Assembly will begin their deliberations Friday and continue through Monday.

Law-Enforcement Funds From U.S.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Governor's Commission on Crime and Law Enforcement Wednesday approved federal grants totaling $717,664 to 39 counties, 60 towns and cities and five state agencies.

The funds are to be used to upgrade law enforcement.

Prosecutor David Hodges of Newport, chairman of the commission, said the total cost of the projects that would be undertaken with the funds was $1,268,250, with the remainder coming from local sources.

Soviet, U.S. Progress in Mideast Talk

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Diplomats at the United Nations say there are indications that the Soviet Union and the United States have moved closer together on how to settle the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Diplomatic sources said Wednesday that both countries recently made proposals indicating they had softened their requirements for a Middle East peace settlement.

The sources said the Russians now propose formal Arab "commitments to peace" becoming effective following the first phase of Israeli withdrawal from the Arab territories occupied in the June 1967 war.

The U.S. proposal calls on Israel to settle for permanent boundaries that would be the same "in principle" as the pre-war Arab-Israeli lines, the sources said.

The Arabs have been insisting on complete Israeli withdrawal from the occupied territories, and the Israelis have been demanding direct negotiations based on Arab recognition of Israel as a state.

Western and Soviet diplomats have been trying to reach an acceptable compromise at the Big Four talks in New York and at U.S.-Soviet talks in Washington.

The talks in both cities center on the resolution approved by the U.N. Security Council on Nov. 22, 1967, which calls for settlement of the 1967 war with a "just and lasting peace" based on Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab territories and Arab acknowledgment of Israeli sovereignty within recognized boundaries.

The Russians had been asking the Americans how they interpreted "recognized boundaries," and the Americans were asking the Russians how they interpreted a "state of peace," diplomatic sources said.

The chief U.N. delegates of the Big Four nations—the United States, the Soviet Union, France and Britain—held their 38th meeting in 15 months Wednesday. U.S. Asst. Secretary of State Joseph J. Sisco met Wednesday with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin in Washington.

In the Middle East today, the Israeli military command in Tel Aviv said Arab gunners in Jordan fired rockets at two Israeli settlements in the Jordan Valley but caused no casualties. The fire was returned, a spokesman said.
